Lisa Campbell, tripped at home and has broken her left leg, both the tibia and the fibula just under the knee. Lisa had her first surgery on her broken leg. A brace was put on to pull the crushed tibia from the knee socket. This was needed to prevent further swelling and create space needed for the reconstructive surgery. She will wear this brace from 2-4 weeks while at rehab and then will have the reconstructive surgery to install plates, rod, screws and then she will go back to rehab so probably won’t be going home for 3 months. Precious, their chihuahua will be able to visit Lisa at rehab.
